FOREWORD

In 1769, John Holyoke entered the deed for Longmeadow upon the records of Springfield, noting that massa-auksic, or "great land," was the Indian name for that region. In recognizing our heritage, we have chosen maasa-auksic, or, as the English called it, Masacksic, for the title of our yearbook.

Few classes I have known in the many years I have been teaching in Longmeadow could have so well faced the pioneering situations the Class of 1957 has had to meet. With much of that successfully behind you, I believe you are thereby much better prepared for what is ahead of you.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, in "The Chambered Nautilus", has very nicely suggested the thought I have in mind. You might like to read it again.

Congratulations on your successes and best wishes as you approach the next big steps before you.

Howard P. Herrschaft

To you, as the first class to graduate from Longmeadow High School, belongs a special place in your school's history. This is an honor you have well deserved. Your leadership has been exceptionally fine, and many of your accomplishments will influence the school for years to come.

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to have been associated with you. I extend to each of you my warmest wishes for success and happiness in the future.

H. O. Macfarlane

It is said that two things are necessary for real achievement: a clear, fixed purpose, a complete idea of what you want to do; and a stern iron-clad resolution to do it, to take the steps, to make the sacrifice, to pay the price.

The race for real success is no short dash —it is a marathon. Only the well-trained, long-winded, stout-hearted can win. You have to be a plodding, patient plugger to get there first, or even to get there at all.

It is my desire, as you leave Longmeadow High School, that you take as your companions along the road to success SKILL, COURAGE, AMBITION, and ENTERPRISE.

CLASS ADVISORS

Miss Austen and Mr. Ness, our advisors, have been a continuing source of aid and encouragement during our two years at Longmeadow High School. Because we are the first class to graduate from the school, we have been confronted by unique situations and questions of school policy which demanded their guidance and mature judgement. Our advisors have given their time unsparingly and have shown a genuine interest in our welfare as a class.

CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1955, the class of '57 was reunited after a year's separation in Springfield. Once again we shifted our allegiances as students, this time to the newly constructed Longmeadow High School.

Studies were begun that September to the cacophonous accompaniment of hammers and band saws, for the school had yet to receive its finishing touches. Moreover, as soon as we had settled down, our complacency was shattered by the realization of our situation. No longer under the restraining but sheltering wing of upperclassmen, we were on our own — no seniors to emulate, no traditions to which to adhere. On our shoulders lay partial responsibility for the school's success, and so to us it was given to establish the traditions, to set the precedents, and to aid in organizing the innumerable facets of school life which hitherto had been taken for granted.

As a first step, we elected David Sullivan as our class president, and chose Penny King, Mary Brouwer, and Tom Patton to assist him. Mr. Ness, and later Miss Austin, became our class advisors. A student council, captained by Tom McDonough and including Nancy Greenwood, Phyllis Ledewitz, and David Sullivan, and a newspaper, co-edited by Jane Freedman and John Garrels, were also formed.

After much ado about the matter, we picked jet and white as our school colors, and chose the Lancer to represent us with his spear and shield. Accordingly, he was incorporated on the school seal, the ring, and the bookcover.

Our next group effort was the planning of a junior dance, the first of many such social affairs to be held at the school. With the passing of the holidays, spring soon appeared, with the debut of the Dramatic Club, in "A is for Apple", which starred the well-known team of Riley and McDonough. Soon after this production came Sport Night, the culmination of a year's athletic competition by the girls, from which the White Team emerged victorious. The results of a year's work by the music department were revealed on Music Night, with all groups performing. For us as juniors, the climax of the year was the gala Junior Prom, planned by co-chairmen Joyce Alberti and Tom McDonough. Prom Queen Mary Brouwer ruled over the festivities.

After an amazingly brief summer, we were back in school—but in an exalted position! We were seniors at last! Combating an elusive preoccupation with colleges, dates, and football games with the set determination to study, we went to work. Our goal: to set an enviable record as seniors.

We elected Tom Patton, John Turner, Mary Brouwer, and Brad Hosmer as our officers, and newcomers to the Student Council were Penny King and Tom Patton, who presided over that body. The yearbook, The Masacksic. was staffed, and Penny King was elected editor-in-chief. The group began work by planning the contents of the book and mapping out an extensive sales campaign.

School spirit was intensified as the Lancers launched their first year of varsity sports. Loyal Lancer crowds urged on the players, supported in their exhortations by the cheerleaders, the drill team, and the band.

As The Masacksic goes to press, half the school year has elapsed. Already we are regarding our high school days retrospectively, and not without sentiment. We know that as the first class to graduate from Longmeadow High School we are in a unique position; we acknowledge both the distinction and the responsibility which it presents; we intend to fulfill that responsibility.

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL

Functioning with its full complement of four classes for the first time this year, the Student Council has been able to work for the greater benefit of the school and its students. The council is composed of four members from each of the four classes and was headed this year by Tom Patton, president; Tom McDonough, vice-president; Anne Donovan, secretary; and Edward Mulkerin, treasurer. The body's stated aims are "to promote school spirit and provide for the general welfare of the school."

Among the first important projects launched by the council this year were the formation of a traffic patrol, a ticket committee, and a pep squad, and the sponsorship of pre-game pep rallies. The council also worked to improve the lunch program, sponsored several informative assemblies, and sold book covers. Also presented under council auspices were the soccer game between the football and soccer squads, the faculty-student volleyball and basketball games, and the annual spring play-day.

Ed Mulkerin, Tom Patton, Steve Hirsch, and Richie Schneider are meeting to discuss details for the Traffic Squad, which is a Student Council project.

The Longmeadow High School Chapter of the National Honor Society, one of the newest and yet potentially one of the most active organizations in the school, was chartered in December of 1956. Students were chosen by faculty vote on the basis of scholastic ability, leadership, service, and character. Under the guidance of Miss MacIntyre, the faculty advisor for the group, officers were elected: Peter Schwartz, president; Nancy Greenwood, vice-president; Betty Mulkerin, secretary; and John Turner, treasurer. The charter members of this organization were formally inducted at an assembly called to honor them and to formally open the Longmeadow chapter. The seventeen seniors and four juniors were presented with honor pins and certificates of merit.

MASACKSIC

The Masacksic staff, headed by Penny King, who was in turn assisted by Mary Brouwer, faced an almost insurmountable task as the first staff of the first yearbook. Even before work on the book itself could begin, a photographer and a printer had to be engaged, and much attention devoted to the enlisting of financial support from parents, friends, and local businesses. When the staff was finally able to concentrate on the other phases of yearbook production, the real problems evidenced themselves. Harried staff members labored feverishly to meet deadlines and to assemble stray photographs, working themselves into a state that was justified by the ultimate satisfaction of seeing the book in print.

NEWSPAPER EDITORS

JET JOTTER

For the Jet Jotter, in only its second year of existence, the 1956 - 57 year brought many welcome innovations. A unique locker-delivery service was offered to subscribers. The format was changed from two to three columns and a standardized lay-out incorporating a masthead and a staff listing was adopted. Due to the combined efforts of the typing, art, and printing staffs, the appearance was greatly enhanced. Most important, the quality of the writing itself was improved. For the whole staff, the problems of meeting fast-looming deadlines, searching for the "perfect phrase", and coaxing a monthly issue out of the temperamental duplicating machine were obscured by the satisfaction of having seen another issue published.

NEWSPAPER CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. George Membrino and Mr. Fred Gricius, the band and orchestra have reached new levels of excellence in the past year. Besides providing pleasant accompaniment for assemblies, they have engaged in other activities. The band, as a marching unt, offered half-time entertainment during the fall football season. Its officers are Nancy Greenwood, president; Michael Canter, vice-president; John Sennstrom, secretary - treasurer; and Christy Carlson, librarian. Both groups attended the Western Massachusetts Music Festival and sent Michael Canter, Christy Carlson, and Nancy Greenwood as Longmeadow High School's representatives to the All-State Band and Orchestra.

LEADERS' CLUB

The Boys' and Girls' Leaders Clubs are organizations designed to aid the physical education teachers, Mrs. Wolcott, and Mr. D'Agostino, in both the gym classes and the after-school sports curriculum. Chosen by their respective teachers, the members of both clubs must meet rigid qualifications. Both girls and boys must obtain high scores in physical fitness examinations and tests of athletic skills, demonstrate genuine interest and enthusiasm in the athletic program, and, most important, exhibit superior qualities of leadership. In addition, boys must maintain a seventy-five average in their academic studies and a B average in physical education.

To promote school spirit and to increase attendance at the varsity games, the clubs printed a schedule of all varsity and junior varsity events, to be distributed to the students. To finance this project, the groups held an informal dance in October.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Oct. 1	Longmeadow	6	Commerce	0
Oct. 12	Longmeadow	14	Classical	25
Oct. 27	Longmeadow	12	Palmer	28

The Longmeadow High School football varsity, limited to a three game schedule in its first official season of play, finished with one victory and two defeats.

The Lancers were first pitted against the Red Raiders of Commerce High School. On a series of passes and a touchdown run by quarterback Tom Patton, Longmeadow scored in the second quarter and held the slender margin for its first victory.

The second game, against Classical High School, initiated an intense rivalry between the two schools. In the hardest fought game of the season, Longmeadow received the short end of a 25-14 tally. Lancer standouts were McDonough, Mulkerin, Sullivan, and Turner.

For their final game, the Lancer eleven moved to Palmer for a wide-open thriller that ended in defeat for Longmeadow. Held scoreless in the first half, Lancers scored twice in the second, with runs by Patton and Merrill. Inability to close the wide gap, however, led to Lancer defeat at the hands of the Palmer Panthers, 28-12.

All of Longmeadow's games were marked by hard-hitting Lancer play and spirited support from the sidelines. Apart from their losing record, the Lancer squad showed encouraging potential and, if fight and determination are any indication of promise, Longmeadow's football future looks bright. The team is coached by Mr. Ursprung and Mr. D'Agostino.

would be expected to. They fumbled a total of nine times, with the Red Raiders being guilty of five dropsies.

Neither team ran wild on the ground but Commerce had a bit the better of it, outside of Patton's payoff canter. Fullback Ned McCants and halfback Ed Gearring both got off a couple of good runs. Longmeadow had a passing edge, however.

Longmeadow made its first plunge into the cold waters of schoolboy athletics yesterday afternoon and came up smiling with a 6-0 victory over Commerce before about 500 fans at Pynchon Park.

Good Blocking

Slim quarterback Tommy Patton raced 31 yards around right end for the game's only touchdown midway through the third period. He took a handoff from plunging halfback Bobby Kittredge, and aided by some excellent downfield blocking, went over standing up. Kittredge's off-tackle try for the extra point failed.

Before and after this outburst, Longmeadow and Commerce acted exactly as new football teams

Oct.	11	Longmeadow 0—Classical	3
Oct.	22	Longmeadow 0—Commerce	4
Oct.	26	Longmeadow 2—Chicopee	1

In their first season on inter-varsity competition, the Longmeadow High School soccer squad, coached by Mr. McCauley, compiled a record of one win and three losses.

Facing a more experienced team in their first game, the Lancers bowed to Suffield High School, 2-0.

Classical High School, as the defending Western Massachusetts champions, defeated Longmeadow in its second game by a score of 3-0.

The Lancers registered their third consecutive defeat when they encountered the Red Raiders of Commerce High School, who scored a 4-0 victory.

For their concluding game, Longmeadow traveled to the Westover Air Force Base where they met Chicopee High School and overcame them, 2-1, for their first victory of the season.

BASKETBALL

The Lancer basketball team, coached by Mr. Haskell and Mr. Josselyn, ended the 1956-57 season with eleven losses and three wins. Inexperience in varsity play placed the new team at a disadvantage.

The Lancers averaged 46.28 points per game for a season total of 648 points. Their opponents averaged 52 points for a 728 total. Top scorers for the season were Patton, Merrill, Russell, and Swanson.

The large percentage of underclassmen on the squad this year indicates a stronger, more experienced team next season.

HOCKEY

Longmeadow High School's hockey team represented the school well in the Western Massachusetts League, despite a 3-6-1 season record. The most noticeable handicap to success was a lack of experience on the part of the team. Toward the end of the season, however, this lack of experience seemed to have less effect, and the 3-3 Lancer tie with Cathedral partially offset lopsided losses to Technical and West Springfield earlier in the season.

The leading scorers for the season were John Turner, Peter Dow, Jeff Moran, and Brad Hosmer. Dow and Moran were forwards and Hosmer and Turner worked at defense. Phil Stone and Jock Harkless were goalies. The squad was coached by Mr. Ness.

Outstanding performances by underclassmen in the past season indicate a winning record for the team next year.

BASEBALL

In its first year of existence at Longmeadow High School, baseball was carried out on an abbreviated schedule. There were two squads, the varsity and the freshman team, coached by Mr. D'Agostino and Mr. Josselyn. Because of the wealth of talent in the freshman and sophomore ranks, the coaches have high hopes for a winning record this year.

In its 1957 season, the varsity will play a full schedule of twelve games. All home games will be played on the new high school field. A junior varsity, composed of freshmen and sophomores, will play on a separate schedule.

LONGMEADOW WINS PLAYDAY

High School Girls Have Basketball Games

Longmeadow High School won top honors in the annual Girls' Basketball Playday yesterday in Technical High School.

More than 70 girls from the four city high schools and Longmeadow participated. The event is an outgrowth of the physical education program in the public schools. Teams from Classical and Technical were tied for second place and Commerce finished third.

Picked as outstanding players were Katherine Green and Judy Duggan of Classical, Emily Gearineau of Trade, Olivia LeValle and Judy Tarbell of Commerce; Bonnie Agard and Norma Ciaschini of Technical and Debra Pratt of Longmeadow.

SHOPPING FOR A JOB?

CHECK WHAT YOU WANT:

- ☐ Good starting salary with regular raises
- ☐ Pleasant work with other girls and young men
- ☐ Prestige of a responsible job with a well-known and respected company

If your list shows three checks, then you should check into what the Telephone Company has to offer you. Smart girls are doing it now, before they graduate from high school. Come in and see our employment interviewer soon. You'll enjoy talking with her.

Act now, and you can say with pride, "I'm all set! I'm going to work with the Telephone Company!"

See the Guidance Counselor at your school, and talk first with her about when and where to apply.

"Bank Day" at the LANCER SAVINGS BANK, a Junior Achievement Company, provides the opportunity for Longmeadow High School students to save ahead for the things they want.

But the need for saving does not end with graduation. How you handle your money will play an important part in your happiness, for if you spend unwisely, you will find your money gone and your real goals still unattained.

Make this important decision now—that you will save regularly. Lancer books may always be used at any S.I.S. office, or we will be glad to open a new book if you have none.
